OREGON, MISSOURI, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1896.

NUMBER 16.

IN ALL THE
Newton Wagons
I sold I never had an
Axle or Wheel Broken Down
It is put together of the very best
White Oak Shellbark Hickory
and poplar wood that grows.
ALL AIR DRIED TOO.
It is painted just out of sight.
H. C. Schmidt.
OREGON, MISSOURI.

FULL UP
From top to bottom, we mean our store, with Cooking and Heating stoves of all kinds.

Royal Princess, Peoria, Monitor, Beckwith's Round Oaks, Superior, and other first class heating stoves. All prices from $4 to $50. Stoves are cheaper than last year. Drop in and look. Will save you money and show you the largest variety of stoves of any house in the county.
T. L. PRICE, Oregon, Mo.
KING OF ALL,
The Weber Wagon.

The Best Material, The Best Ironed, The Highest Running, The Finest Painted, The Strongest Made, The Best Wagon on the market for the least money. It stands the wear where others go down. Come and get a Weber Wagon when you want value received. Old wagons taken in exchange.
D. M. MARTIN,
OREGON, MISSOURI.

—Powell's "Hard-Times" cigar, 2 for 5 cents, is now located in St. Joseph at C. O. Proud's. School books cash.
—I have too many second-hand and new books on hand. Do you want a bargain?
—You can get all the best kinds of strawberry plants, new or old, at $2.50 per 1,000 and upward at J. N. Menefee's. Go to Philbrick for school books and other supplies for the children. The place to get them is at Philbrick's drug store.
—Patronize C. C. Powell, the cigar maker, and thus encourage a home industry, and at the same time get better cigars than you can buy anywhere else.
—Say—John have you got a new buggy top? No? Just my old one dressed over with Best Out Top Dressing, it sold by C. O. Proud, J. C. Philbrick and D. M. Martin. She's the stuff.
—A farmers' institute of two days will be held in Oregon, sometime in November, date will be given later. This has been a season of wonderful growth. Let everybody who feels an interest in the reputation of Holt county save the largest and best samples of grain, fruit and vegetables to exhibit at this meeting. Make up your mind to attend and participate in the discussions. It will do you good; help others, and help to build up and develop the country.

Save Your Home! Secure Your Family!
R. C. BENTON
Will insure your PROPERTY or your LIFE in HOME MUTUALS and save you money. If you or your friends are in need of
Fire or Life Insurance
Call on or address him at Oregon, Mo. and he will call and see you.

S. F. O'FALLON,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Office in the Moore Building.
—John Philbrick, the druggist, want to see you.
—For the best 5 cent cigar on the market, smoke Powell's Lulu.
—Jacob Grosse has put in nicely dressed limestone curb stones at each gate of the court house.
—Will Warren and Tom Quinby, of Union township, will farm in Forbes township in the near future.
—Jonas Watson, of the firm of J. Watson & Co., was in St. Joseph, this week, buying his fall and winter stock.

Death In a Can.
To chicken mites and lice. For sale by C. O. Proud only.
—Geo. Lentz, of Hickory township, who was felling a large tree on the 7th inst., was severely injured on the head by a falling limb.
—Born to Rufus Meyer and wife, of Hickory township, Wednesday, Sept. 2nd, 1896, a nine-pound girl baby, Dr. Findley in attendance.
—Handsomely engraved wedding cards are out, announcing the marriage of Guy Cummins and Miss Emma Roeker, of this city, Sept. 23, 1896.
—Jimmie, the nine-year-old son of C. A. Williams, of Hickory township, and who was operated upon for appendicitis, is considered convalescing.

—Our county court was to have sat this week as a board of equalization to assess the tax, but owing to sickness in the family of Assessor Barrett, they adjourned to meet Monday next.
—Mr. H. C. Schmidt received this week a full car load of the celebrated light-running Newton wagons. They are a very high grade wagon, and the teamsters and farmers are just beginning to find it out.
—The farmer should keep the fact uppermost in his mind that the prices of his products are regulated by the law of supply and demand, and no sort of tinkering with the currency can possibly make it otherwise.
—Attend the concert by the Colored Jubilee Singers at New Point, Oregon's opera house, Saturday night, September 13. A choice program, consisting of old plantation melodies, dialogues and recitations. Admission, only 10 cents.
—Nathaniel Pelt has produced a seedling peach, which promises to be one of the best for hardiness and productiveness, and good flavor that we have. It is a free stone. He has saved a lot of seeds and proposes to let others have them.

—We are under obligations to Sam Hunt for some magnificent specimens of Crime Golden Pippin and Jonathan apples and "Stump the World" peaches; also some "Bronze" potatoes, which are the sweetest sweet potatoes ever put on the market.
—List of letters remaining in the post-office, at Oregon, Mo., for week ending Sept. 11, 1896: Miss Myrtle Davis, Miss Minnie J. Morris, Miss Nellie Morris, Mrs. Mabel Luna. In calling for any of the above please say, "advertised."
—Henry Smith, P. M.
—Deputy Sheriff Parsons brought in Frank Lowe, who was wanted on the charge of keeping a gaming room at Craig. Lowe got away from the officer several weeks ago, but it seems he is located at Rockport, and he was arraigned at this term of court and gave bond for his future appearance.

—This country has had bimetalism for 25 years and the Populists have never found it out. The Republican party should not be to blame for their ignorance in this matter, as it has done its best, building up free schools, churches and churches and the Populists have not learned anything it is not our fault.
—The country has more money than it needs, and it doesn't need more money, it needs more business. It needs something to open the factories and mills and put labor to work at good wages. It needs financial stability, restoration of confidence so that the money now locked up in vaults will come forth and get into circulation.
—The report of Adjutant General Robbins at the national G. A. R. encampment supplies some interesting figures. It shows, among other things, that Missouri leads Kansas in the number of Grand Army men in good standing. This will be a surprise to many here. Kansas had on June 30 of the present year 440 posts with 14,710 men, while Missouri had 462 posts with 15,557 men.

—The Forbes Republicans held a rousing meeting on Saturday evening last, and organized a McKinley League club of something like one hundred members. Judge O'Fallon and other county candidates were present. He made an excellent speech on the political issues, and from what we can learn, this loyal township expects to roll up her old-time Republican majority. All honor to loyal Forbes.
—It is not yet decided which of Mr. Vest's two great Boonville arguments will do his party most good—that the county should have sent troops to Wall street to shoot down bankers who issued clearing house certificates, or that the American workmen, by adopting a "residing vote" in Louisiana. In the latter he says, "Tell John Kunkin that I congratulate him and would like to be there in November to see him majority one more." He is engaged in rice growing.

—I. M. Guild, the baker, was almost beside himself last Tuesday, September 8, 1896, his wife presenting him with a fine daughter, weighing ten pounds. The mother is getting along nicely, and Guild is now improving, while it was thought that he would not pull through, but by careful attention and good nursing he will come out all right.
—Dr. Evans took P. W. Shambaugh to St. Joseph one day this week for an operation upon the eye, and having been successfully performed he returned home, and is being looked after by the doctor.
—We have received a letter from A. C. Morgan, formerly of the county, now a resident of Lake Side, Louisiana. In the letter he says, "Tell John Kunkin that I congratulate him and would like to be there in November to see him majority one more." He is engaged in rice growing.

is over; we were not in it, but we are in the Grocery business.
We want your trade; we will guarantee a dollars worth of goods for every dollar you spend with us. All kinds of money taken Gold, Silver, Greenbacks or Coppers. Everybody, Republican, Democrat, Populist, Prohib, friends, foes are invited to come and see us; we have no axes to grind, we will treat you all.
Yours for Good Groceries and Low Prices.
Moore & Seeman,
Oregon, Mo.

—J. Watson & Co. request all indebted to them to call and settle at once, as they must have money to meet their bills.
—C. W. Lukens, dentist, will extract your teeth without pain. He will use the new method, and you will feel no pain.
—Farmers must, and will soon more or less, rotate their crops and then keep up the fertility of the soil.
—The corn through the bluff city and Chambers and Baker's districts is doing nicely, and even the late corn is pushing ahead rapidly to completion.
—They are still counting down in Arkansas, and indications seem to indicate that they will get through with the Democratic vote by the holiday season. The Democratic majority reaches 70,000.
—Dr. Evans took P. W. Shambaugh to St. Joseph one day this week for an operation upon the eye, and having been successfully performed he returned home, and is being looked after by the doctor.
—We have received a letter from A. C. Morgan, formerly of the county, now a resident of Lake Side, Louisiana. In the letter he says, "Tell John Kunkin that I congratulate him and would like to be there in November to see him majority one more." He is engaged in rice growing.

The mother is getting along nicely, and Guild is now improving, while it was thought that he would not pull through, but by careful attention and good nursing he will come out all right.
—Hon. N. F. Murray will speak at the court house on next Monday night, September 15th, upon the subject of capital removal. We hope that Mr. Murray may be favored with a large audience, as every tax payer is interested in this matter if he but knew it. The capital removal we regard as one of the most gigantic "stunts" ever put on foot in our state. It ought to be buried by an overwhelming vote.
—Frank Newlin has sold the White Cloud, (Kas.) Globe to E. F. Tennant, of Western Kansas, who took possession last week. Mr. Newlin gave the citizens of White Cloud a good new newspaper, his reason for selling being that his health would not permit him to continue himself so closely indoors. Wherever he may go and whatever he may engage in, we wish him prosperity and improved health. May the new proprietor prosper. He is getting out a good paper.
—And now we find that Cave Hunt was not the man who questioned the incoming man about the election out there, and we are at a loss to know who put it on next. Henry Richards won't stand it. Cave Hunt won't admit it. What other good-natured free-silver man is there that will admit that he wanted to know anything about the election in Wyoming. Perhaps Jake Foster will assume the position of querist on that line. We'll see Jake. In the meantime Henry and Cave are excused.

—Mrs. Daniel Moss, of Forbes township, died at her home last Tuesday, September 8, 1896, at the age of 78 years, after a long illness. She had been suffering for years from cancer of the stomach.
—Drop around and see Bill Thomas when in St. Joseph. He is located at 222 South 6th street. Keeps on hand a choice line of liquors, fresh beer on tap, fine cigars and lunch.
—The McKinley & Hobart club will meet at the Court House next Tuesday evening, Sept. 15th, 1896, for the transaction of important business. All members are urgently requested to be present.
—Demont Graham School of Short-hand and Typewriting. Complete and thorough. Experienced teachers. Best business houses in the city recommend our school. Fall term begins September 7th. Rooms 50 and 52, Ballinger Building, St. Joseph, Mo.
—We are informed that our friend, James Edwin Steller, of Mount City, will lead to the marriage altar, Wednesday, September 10, 1896, one of the most charming and accomplished young ladies in the vicinity of your Deeds office, a daughter of Judge J. D. Good, pasteur.

Go Back.
Monday last, our public school reopened for the regular winter term, and the wheels of the educational engine upon which depends the existence, indeed the very possibility of our American form of government, began again to revolve.
Under Prof. Roberts' capable management the Oregon school system has been brought to a high degree of efficiency. To the young people who have to decide the question of returning to school, or turning aside to take up a business career, the following advice is offered: Be slow to relinquish your opportunity to gain an education. Remember that your place in this busy world will always depend largely upon the acquirements of your youth. Only in the most exceptional cases has the man without an education been able to raise himself to any post of prominence or honor. In this enlightened republic, the highest honors are open to those of modest birth. The nation itself extends to its people the means for fitting themselves to occupy its posts of dignity. The boy who carefully puts away from him the professed education, may as a man repent bitterly his mistaken decision. To the excellent corps of teachers the Starvation, bid them again a welcome to their chosen field, and trust the year just begun may be a fruitful one.

Capital Removal.
It is hardly possible that even should the people by a majority vote to move the capital of our state to Sedalia, the Jefferson City people and others would submit to it, because it would be open, palpable violation of the constitution. The capital was placed at Jefferson City by the constitution and has remained there ever since, the new constitution simply recognizing it as fact. It may be true that the name Jefferson City was not used, nor was the special tract described by metes and bounds whereon the capital was to be placed; but the site was selected and the land taken in exact accord with the provisions of the constitution of the capital of the state at that very point became a constitutional provision just as much as though the instrument, the sovereign law of all laws, had declared that such a plot of ground at Jefferson City, Mo., is the site of the capital of the state. The acts and things subsequent, done in accordance with provisions and stipulations precedent, revert back and become part of the precedent provisions, as though the constitution provided how it may be changed, but whether in this case the original constitution or the present one to govern on this one point may well be questioned. Constitutions themselves are incapable of violating contracts or of depriving us of our inalienable rights. Some things nothing but necessity will authorize.

THE PEOPLE'S SIDE of the important question will be presented by
HON. N. F. MURRAY,
ON
Monday Night, September 14th,
AT THE
Court House, Oregon, Mo.
A cordial invitation to attend is extended to everybody. You should feel that your place in this busy world will always depend largely upon the acquirements of your youth. Only in the most exceptional cases has the man without an education been able to raise himself to any post of prominence or honor. In this enlightened republic, the highest honors are open to those of modest birth. The nation itself extends to its people the means for fitting themselves to occupy its posts of dignity. The boy who carefully puts away from him the professed education, may as a man repent bitterly his mistaken decision. To the excellent corps of teachers the Starvation, bid them again a welcome to their chosen field, and trust the year just begun may be a fruitful one.

A Good Meeting.
Hon. A. W. Brewster, of St. Joseph, Mo., addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at the court house in this city on last Tuesday evening, September 8, 1896, in the regular meeting of the McKinley League club of this place. Senator Brewster pointed out all the qualities of a successful and brilliant orator, and in a powerful and eloquent address of more than an hour's duration he held the close attention of the large number present.
The assemblage was augmented by the presence of a large number of ladies. The band of the city, conducted by Mr. J. C. Philbrick, played a very interesting selection before the meeting was called to order. Senator Brewster professed his remarks by a humorous and graphic description of the education of the Democratic party by the Populists at Chicago, July last, and the celebration of their triumph at St. Louis several weeks later. He gave an exhaustive review of the monetary system of this country, showed the utter fallacy of the advocates of free coinage of silver at 16 to 1.
He told how our country had been robbed of its phenomenal prosperity by the free trade practices of the Democratic party. He denigrated the Populists as a shuffling, masterly manner, and clearly pointed out that the people could expect relief from the Republican party only. He said that what was needed above all else was more patriotism, more Americanism and more McKinleyism.
He concluded his address with a brilliant peroration and earnestly appealed to the people to stand by the party of Lincoln, Grant and Blaine.
His address made a very favorable impression and resulted in great good to the cause. Taken all in all it was an event of which our club may justly feel proud.
